The Bang Bang Club

Starring: Ryan Phillippe, Malin Akerman, Taylor Kitsch
The Bang Bang Club was the name given to four young photographers, Greg Marinovich, Kevin Carter, Ken Oosterbroek, and Joao Silva, whose photographs captured the final bloody days of white rule in South Africa and the final demise of apartheid. The film tells the remarkable and sometimes harrowing story of the young men, and the extraordinary extremes they went to in order to capture their pictures. 14A 109 min. (2010) Drama

Land

A true Wild West story, delving into the tumultuous topic of land ownership and development in politically volatile Nicaragua. The year is 2006, and Nicaragua is viewed as the new land of opportunity. Newspapers and magazines hail it as the new Cancun, the next Florida. What these inexperienced developers don't know is that the seemingly inexhaustible cheap manual labour is about to run out. UNK 76 min. (2010) Documentary

Force of Nature THE DAVID SUZUKI MOVIE

David Suzuki, iconic Canadian scientist, educator, broadcaster, and activist, delivers a last lecture, which he describes as a distillation of his life and thoughts, his legacy, what he wants to say before he dies. Filmed before a live audience, in front of a memory box of moving, distilled images, he articulates a core, urgent message: the limits of the biosphere have been exhausted and it is imperative that humans rethink their relationship with the natural world.

Bumrush (French)

Starring: Emmanuel Auger, Dara Lowe, Pat Lemaire
In 2011, a series of police operations destabilized the criminal underworld in Montreal, which was dominated by the bikers and the Italian Mafia. Following a vacuum caused by the raids, all signs indicated the imminence of a new turf war that would cast new players: the street gangs. Considered by the bikers and the Italian Mafia as a neutral territory, the bar 'Kingdom' became the main battlefield of a new bloody chapter in the Quebec underworld. UNK 127 min. (2011) Action

The most controversial miniseries of 2011!

The Kennedys

Starring: Greg Kinnear, Katie Holmes, Barry Pepper

Through exhaustive research, the eight-hour miniseries chronicles the saga of America's first 'royal' family during the 1960s, providing an intimate look at how Joseph Kennedy Sr. shaped his sons, John and Robert, to become two of the most influential men in the country's history. Told by Joe Kennedy, an ambitious and egocentric father, recounting the scandal, tragedy, public greatness, and private frailty of our nation's most fabled political family. UNK 376 min. The Benefits of Music Education are Plentiful...

Learning to play a musical instrument helps children improve their concentration and memorization, raises their self-confidence, and increases coordination—all of which helps children succeed not only in music, but in their day-to-day lives. Likewise, for adults, music is a creative outlet and is known to be therapeutic. It can help relieve stress after a long day and helps to keep one's mind young and active.

Make music education a part of your library by adding these titles to your collection.

Araya (B&W) (Spanish)

Explored is a day in the lives of three families living in Araya, an arid peninsula in Venezuela. For centuries since its discovery by the Spanish, the region's salt was collected and stacked into radiant white pyramids. Captured are the breathtaking and unforgettable images from the salineros toiling to build the mountains of salt, a fisherman hauling in huge teeming nets, and a young girl and her grandmother laying 'flowers' of shells on windswept graves.
